

VORIN RECORD, ALTITUDE, BROKEN

A. Brindley Ascends
11,726 Feet at Chicago.
Two Narrow Escapes.

BRINDLEY'S MARK WAS 11,474
With Dead Engine, Lands in Water—Cold Intense Two Miles Up.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Oscar A. Brindley, 36, descended from the ground to the water in a new world's record at 11,726 feet.

Philip O. Parmelee followed him in air, passing the former American record, and reached 10,837 feet before being forced to descend.

The barographs were corrected by Captain Clarence Culver, of the Fifth United States Cavalry, and certified the executive committee of the International Aeronautic Association.

International rules of aviation as set by G. E. C. Wood, secretary of the Aero Club of America, provide that an aviator must fly at least 100 meters, 328 feet, higher than any previous record before he shall have been declared to have established a new record.

Brindley was shown to have been the holder of the world's record, with several other records, by the committee.

Two Narrow Escapes.
While Brindley, Howard Gill and they were high among the clouds, the safety in their altitude, flight, was Ward and Earle Ovington, flying at comparatively low levels, both narrow escapes from death.

The pole of Ward's machine broke a hundred pieces as he flew over a grandstand; pieces of wood penetrated and tore the canvas planes, but aviator held tight and brought his machine wobbling to the ground.

Quite able to reach shore, found landing place in five feet of water, in which he escaped with a ducking, the altitude experts, though unshocked, expressed the least important of the world's record.

A wind that blew at 20 miles an hour, 100 feet above the earth, was less than higher up, and Brindley, Ovington, first to descend, driven down by cold. He came down in a hair-dressing, sniveling, shivering, hardly to move his hands from the steering wheel. His barograph showed 10,837 feet.

Brindley was the next to descend, having passed out of the sight of the strong field glasses. His barograph had swung around to a figure of 11,726 feet, showing 11,726 feet, descended soon after, with a mark of 11,726 feet. All declared they could have made even better marks but, for cold.

Cold Stopped Better Record.
The air was fine for flying and it had stayed on longer and gone on, said Brindley, "but I had light chills on. When the thermometer got near freezing and I was rushing down the air my hands were so cold I could not handle the machine safely. Ovington's accident occurred near the third street in the short water. He had stopped his engine, and eight miles south of the aviation field, and was unable to start. He tried to land in the golf links but his speed too great. Instead, he made a circle over the lake and then, as his speed insufficient to reach shore, he alighted in a lagoon, from which he could swim ashore.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 18.—On September 28 last, two days before he died his fatal plunge from the clouds, Chas. Hoxsey came to earth with his barograph registering an altitude of 14,744 feet. That this record was not official at the time was due to the fact that he carried the same barograph on the day he fell to his death at the Dominguez aviation field. The registering instrument was smashed to bits, as was his biplane.

The barograph had not yet been calibrated, officials having postponed the standardization until after the meeting was over.

ALL STATES DAY AT MANITOU

THOUSANDS EXPECTED
AT BIG, NOVEL PIONIC

Competitive Speaking, Solos,
Chorus 50 Girls, Band Concert Among Features

Several thousand people, both residents and tourists in this region, and hailing from all states of the Union, are expected to congregate at the Manitou hotel park this afternoon to participate in what will probably be the largest picnic ever held in the Pikes Peak region. An interesting program has been arranged, and speakers from several states will make addresses, among them W. B. Coward, former United States senator from Missouri. Speakers from seven states will contest for the cup trophy. The program in detail follows:

Oklahoma.
Song, "The Oklahoma Girl," Miss Kate Tracy.
Thomas H. Harper, representative in cup contest. H. H. Kendall, judge in cup contest.

Kansas.
Song, Miss Edith Bedard.
Judge, H. H. Kendall, representative in cup contest. S. S. Osborn, judge in cup contest.

Texas.
Song, Miss B. O. Buven.
W. B. Anderson, representative in cup contest. Miss Clara Morris, judge in cup contest.

Missouri.
Song, M. M. Birkes, representative in cup contest. Mrs. Frank Anderson, judge in cup contest.

Arkansas.
Song, "My Arkansas," Miss Helen Long.
Col. J. Frank Mayes, representative in cup contest. Judge Guy Fulk, judge in cup contest.

Kentucky.
Song, "My Old Kentucky Home," Miss Lillian Berman, representative in cup contest.

Alabama.
Song, "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground."
Mrs. O. M. Larkin, representative in cup contest.

All states are accorded the right to change this program at any time prior to 10 o'clock today, and all states not mentioned may make entries up to that hour. Special numbers also may be inserted in the program. It is anticipated that the program will be the most important of the season.

Attractive Music.
An especially attractive musical program has been arranged. Several selections will be given by the Manitou concert band, and 50 girls, representing many states of the Union, will give songs in chorus. Each girl will wear ribbons and emblems of her own state. In addition, a young lady will sing a state song just before each speaker in the state cup contest gives his address.

A large platform has been constructed in front of the bandstand at the park for use by the officials of Manitou. The girls, chorus, the committee of the day, and the speakers. In front of this platform space has been reserved for the judges in the prize cup contest. A large number of seats have been provided, and the large crowd expected will be disposed of in the most comfortable manner possible.

Two young ladies will be in charge of state registers at a booth at the entrance to the grounds, and all visitors are requested to register in their state book as they enter the park. The official badge, a lavender ribbon bearing the words, "Manitou, 1911," will be presented to each person registering.

The town of Manitou and the owners of the Manitou hotel and grounds will serve free lemonade, made with fruit water, at the Manitou Spring Pavilion all afternoon. A large panoramic picture of the crowd will be taken during the afternoon.

STRATTON BANK CLOSED

DENVER, Aug. 18.—State Bank Examiner Pfeiffer has closed the State bank of Stratton, Colo., and is endeavoring to effect a reorganization of the institution in the interests of the depositors. The bank was capitalized at $100,000. Unfortunate loans are said to have placed the bank in deep water. Mr. Pfeiffer says he believes the loss to depositors will be small, if any.

The officers of the bank are L. E. Craig, president; Edward Martin, vice president; C. H. Lyle, cashier. These officers and J. A. Craig constitute the board of directors.

E. H. SOTHERN AND JULIA MARLOWE WED

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Announcement was made at the office of Sam S. and Lee Shubert today that they had received a cable from E. H. Sothern, the actor, telling of his marriage in London yesterday to Julia Marlowe.

Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe closed their engagement in a Broadway theater on July 1 last, two weeks before the engagement was to have terminated, and it was then rumored that they intended to marry. The rumor, however, was denied. They sailed for Europe, July 15.

Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson, who, as the result of the Dr. Wiley controversy, might resign from the cabinet. Although nothing has been said about his retirement, it is said that no one in Washington would be surprised if he did so. There are certain differences between him and Dr. Wiley that cannot easily be reconciled. Secretary Wilson has made no recommendations in the case, but he is known to entertain a feeling of hostility against his chief chemist.

Atwood Lands in Cornfield 84 Miles From Cleveland, O.

SWANVILLE, Pa., Aug. 18.—What he called one jump, brought Harry N. Atwood, Boston aviator, from Cleveland, O., to Swanville, Pa., this afternoon, and landed him 84 miles nearer his destination in his aeroplane flight from St. Louis to New York.

Atwood was to have flown to Erie, but a leak of gasoline forced him to land 11 miles west of Erie. He came down without accident and glided into a cornfield in the twilight.

Starting from Cleveland after much delay, Atwood went through the air at terrific speed. A fast mail train, which left Cleveland 20 minutes after him, failed to catch him. As soon as the passengers were aware of the aeroplane's flight, ahead of them, they eagerly craned out the windows. Train dispatchers, who were keeping account of the flyer's passage, shouted to the passengers: "He is 30 miles ahead and gaining on you."

84 Miles in 2 Hours, 7 Minutes.
Sailing high over the edge of Lake Erie, Atwood, after leaving Cleveland at 4:08 o'clock p. m., alighted in the cornfield at Swanville at 6:10 o'clock p. m., central time. His actual flying time for the 84 miles from Cleveland being two hours, seven minutes.

Today's run entitles him to a credit of having flown above parts of five states. He is now 727 miles from his starting place in St. Louis and 538 miles from New York, having been in the air since he left last Monday, 15 hours, 22 minutes. A large portion of today's flight was over the lake.

Atwood's getaway from Cleveland was so late in the afternoon that he faced a prospect of being overtaken in the darkness. First he had to ascend from a narrow strip of fenced sandy beach. He glided down hill and almost touched the water, and flew out over the lake into a treacherous wind. By skillful steering he took a spiral upward course and later landed in the Country club golf links.

On the golf links he made three unsuccessful starts before he could rise high enough to skim over the trees. Safely in the air, he swung out over the lake, came back to a point over the land and, at an altitude of 600 feet, struck out on his course, fixed by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern tracks, with the intention of reaching Erie before sundown.

Exciting Uncertainties.
Between Cleveland and Ashland, Atwood made the 54 miles in one hour, 15 minutes, including delay caused by his slow start at Cleveland.

For Atwood it was a day filled with exciting uncertainties. He was almost compelled to stop on account of the oncoming darkness.

The fact that Atwood's biplane is tonight in a lonely spot on the lake shore, where the village's only policeman is on guard to protect it during the night, and that not more than a dozen farmers were able to look on the machine by which the aviator hopes to break the world's record for cross-country flying, called for disappointment in Erie.

All afternoon people came pouring into Erie from the surrounding country, and by 6 o'clock, when it was hoped Atwood would appear, the streets were thronged. Many ran up the railroad tracks to get a first glimpse of him. Suddenly, when anxiety became keenest, a telegraph operator ran out with the announcement that Atwood was down at Swanville. This was followed by many reports that Atwood had been injured, and that his machine had been smashed. A number of automobiles scurried down there from Erie and found none of these reports true.

HOUSE CANNOT PASS OVER VETO

Effort to Override Taft on Wool and Free List Bills
Dramatically Fails

ADJOURNMENT NEXT WEEK

Other Democratic Measures
Have Slim Chance—Speaker Clark Waxen Eloquent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—In a succession of dramatic events the Democratic house of representatives met defeat in its supreme effort to pass the wool and free list bills over the president's veto and virtually fixed upon adjournment of congress early next week.

The house on Monday will agree to the cotton tariff revision bill as amended in the senate, but will not hold congress in session to await the certain veto of that measure. The senate cleared away all its business and adjournment is assured in the view of leaders of both parties in both houses by next Wednesday at the latest.

The Democratic house majority, with a great demonstration of enthusiasm, marshaled its ranks for the great battle to override the president and went down without flying colors. The party leaders failed to muster enough insurgent Republican support for the two-thirds majority necessary to pass the tariff legislation over the president's head.

Tonight the Democratic members of the ways and means committee determined to end the session.

Failure of the attempt of the Democratic house to override the veto came in a day filled with striking incidents. The close of the debate on the motion of Mr. Underwood to pass the wool bill over the veto, found Speaker Clark, an aspirant for the presidency, pleading the cause of his fellow Democrats from the floor, surrounded by a throng of his colleagues, who cheered him vociferously. The galleries were filled with cheering and to the speaker, as he concluded, was accorded a demonstration that for several minutes delayed the roll call.

Two-thirds Vote Fails, 227 to 129.
On the motion to pass the wool measure over the veto, there were 227 affirmative votes, 22 of them insurgent Republicans, and one independent Republican, while the negative votes were 129. The motion to override the veto on the free list failed, a two-thirds majority also, the vote being 226 to 127.

During the three hours of the debate on the wool bill the corridors of the Capitol reverberated time and again with shouts of approval and decision from the floor. Spirited discussions between members were frequent. Republican leader Mann and Representative Clayton of Alabama had a wordy

SAYS SPRINGS CHARTER VALID

JUDGE DILLON UPHOLDS
CONSTITUTIONALITY

Guided by Opinion of High Authority, Company Will Take Over Bonds

Judge John F. Dillon, of New York city, recognized as probably the greatest authority on legal points affecting municipal government, has declared that the Colorado Springs charter is absolutely valid.

The opinion of Judge Dillon, in brief, was communicated to City Attorney McKesson yesterday in a telephone message from E. H. Rollins & Son, bond buyers of Denver, who had hesitated about purchasing $127,000 worth of water and sewer extension bonds of this city, because of certain points raised questioning the validity of the Colorado Springs charter. Representatives of the Denver firm stated yesterday that the bonds will be taken up immediately.

When the matter of purchasing the bonds came up some time ago, the Denver buyers suggested that the matter be submitted to Judge Dillon for an opinion. They agreed to abide by his findings, feeling that his opinion as to the legality of the city's charter amounted to a ruling of the highest court. His ruling clears up many points concerning the city's government under the charter.

A case growing out of the adoption of the charter, that of Hiner vs. Starrett, is now in the state supreme court. J. E. Hiner was removed as police magistrate when the charter government became effective, and C. L. Starrett was placed in the office. Hiner's attorneys question the legality of the twentieth state amendment, providing for the creation and adoption of charter government in Colorado cities.

Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin, whose election to the senate is to be investigated along the lines of the Lorimer investigation. The senate has voted to put the matter into the hands of the committee on privileges and elections, following the receipt of a memorial passed by the Wisconsin legislature demanding the investigation on grounds of corruption in connection with the election. Senator Stephenson is the oldest member of the senate, and is said to be worth $20,000,000 in his state in lumber holdings.

Wiley Says His Hands "Paralyzed" by Referee Board

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The house investigation into the charges against Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, will come to a close, according to the present plans, with the testimony of Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture on Monday.

Dr. Wiley finished the presentation of his side of the controversy today. He declared today he would do the legal work of the bureau now carried on by Solicitor McCabe of the department for one hundredth part of the cost.

He expressed his desire to put the ban on funds he believed to be injurious to health, until the referee board had pronounced them harmless, but said he had been defeated in this by his associates.

Dr. Wiley was asked about the statement of Solicitor McCabe that few drug cases were reported by the bureau of chemistry for prosecution. Dr. Wiley replied that few cases were prepared because many lines of inquiry had been taken out of his hands and turned over to the Rosen reference board.

Your hands were tied until epilepsy are given by the board."

Absolutely paralyzed," Dr. Wiley said the Prussian government, after studying the investigation of the bureau of chemistry in regard to the effects of benzoin and soda and that of the Rosen board, had accepted the findings of the former that the substance was harmful.

FIFTY PERSONS HURT
IN BIG FOUR WRECK

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 18.—More than 50 persons were injured, only one of whom may die, when the fast Cincinnati and New York special of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad was partly derailed just west of this city today.

The most seriously injured are Mabel Heminger, 7 years old, of Mount Carmel, Ill., whose left arm was torn off and head bruised. Her mother, sister and two brothers were severely cut and bruised.

The more seriously injured are: Mrs. C. E. Rough, Dayton, back hurt; Miss Minnie Smith, Dayton, head cut; Mrs. C. L. West, Dayton, jaw broken.

Alfred Dronah, Cincinnati, chest on dinner table injured.
J. N. Noel, Columbus, engineer.
Stanley Dickerson, Columbus, fireman.
Miss Rose Marguard, Dayton, ribs broken, right shoulder wrenched.
Miss Ethel and W. Miller, Chicago, bruised about body, probably internal injuries.
Mrs. H. L. Strickland, Avenaville, Ind., right shoulder broken.
Mrs. Hazel Heminger, Mt. Carmel, Ill., perhaps fatally injured.
Mrs. William Heminger, Mt. Carmel, cut and bruised.
Miss Irene Heminger, Mt. Carmel, Ill., Anna Shultz, Springfield, skull fractured.
Mrs. Sarah Gardner, San Bernardino, Cal.
As the train rounded a curve at Grandview station crossing, the front truck of the second day coach climbed a switch point and the car was derailed, the other coaches following into the ditch.

BRIGHT CHANCES FOR STATEHOOD

SENATE PASSES NEW RESOLUTION

Believed That House Will Act
Favorably—Recall Feature Eliminated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The senate today passed a resolution to provide for a basis acceptable to President Taft, and approved by the senate today through the passage of the Flood-Smith resolution presented by Senator William Alden Smith, chairman of the committee on territories.

The resolution was adopted, 53 to 3, after a debate in which the house was charged with evading a vote on the president's statehood veto, and in which the president was charged with trying to coerce the people of Arizona on the proposed recall of judges.

The senate measure will be considered in the house tomorrow and that body will be able to pass it if it chooses to do so.

The new resolution requires that Arizona shall eliminate from its constitution the recall of judges provision before it shall be admitted to the Union. New Mexico is instructed to vote again on a change in its constitution desired to make the act more easily amendable, but it is not made a condition of New Mexico's statehood that the people approve the change.

The voted resolution today tested in the house without action. Senator Bristow of Kansas announced he would not support any other resolution until the house had acted on the vetoed measure. Chairman Flood of the house territories committee was in the senate chamber most of the afternoon, and it was generally understood that house Democratic leaders were anxious for the opportunity of voting on the new resolution, rather than to be forced to vote on the vetoed one.

Hitchcock Asailed.
During part of the debate, Attorney General Wickersham, Postmaster General Hitchcock and Secretaries Stimson and Nagel were in the senate chamber. Mr. Hitchcock attacked Senator Reed of Missouri (Democrat) criticized the president for trying to force Arizona to accept its recall of judges and read a telegram regarding Mr. Hitchcock's for his political activity in Arizona.

The telegram read:
Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 12, 1911.
Mr. H. W. Wiley, Washington.

"It is a well-known fact that Hitchcock, during the campaign for the election of delegates to our constitutional convention, traveled over Arizona with different federal officials holding out little receptions at which plans were made for the defeat of the candidates who stood pledged for a progressive constitution. Taft's name was freely used and insinuations were made concerning proposed federal buildings. His friends told the Arizona Gazette to be good, or Republican patronage would cease. The Gazette refused, to be coerced and patronized did worse. Practically every postmaster in Arizona immediately became active fighting the progressive candidates. It is well known his visit influenced voters in Tucson, Yuma, Globe and Prescott."

(Signatures)
C. H. ACKERS,
Acting Chairman.
J. L. IRWIN,
Secretary.

Mr. Hitchcock, in through Senator Reed's speech with an insupportable smile.
"The objection is not to the recall of judges," declared Senator Reed. The president, through his satellites, had offered him the Arizona Gazette to dictate the action of the people of Arizona and he had him now using his power to prevent the people of that state from being admitted to the Union."

NEW ORLEANS TO SEND FIRST SHIP THROUGH CANAL

PANAMA, Canal Zone, Aug. 18.—The Panama-Pacific Exposition company in a telegram sent by President Charles C. Moore today to the New Orleans Progressive union, pledged itself to lend its utmost aid toward carrying out New Orleans' plan to send the first American merchant vessel through the Panama canal.

The New Orleans Progressive union, in requesting the local organization's support, promised that by the time the canal was opened a New Orleans company would have in commission a fleet of American ships of the highest type, officered and manned by Americans, filled with American goods, and flying the American flag.

4 KILLED, 4 HURT, WHEN
MOLTEN METAL EXPLODES

JOLIET, Ill., Aug. 18.—Four men were killed, four fatally injured and nine others suffered fractured arms and legs in an explosion which today wrecked the molding building at the Illinois Steel company's plant and imprisoned 100 men.

The accident occurred when a large ladle of molten metal upset on a wet floor. There was a terrific explosion, which blew out the walls of the building. The roof of the wrecked building fell, imprisoning 100 men working in the molding room. Scalding steam swept everything, burning the faces and arms of nearly every man in the structure. For more than 15 minutes, workers sought in vain to reach the injured. Those in the building who were not helplessly crumpled, burrowed through piles of tiles and twisted iron work before they could get out.

GREAT BRITAIN DEMORALIZED BY STRIKE

23,000 Miles of Railways Are Involved—220,000 Men
Already Out

FOOD PRICES ADVANCING

Tens of Thousands of Troops,
With Ball Cartridges, Patrol Strategic Points.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—English strike at a glance:

Scores of thousands of railway men in the United Kingdom on strike. The movement threatens to cripple 23,000 miles of steam railways.

Neither the managers nor employers seem disposed to deviate from their ultimatums.

Passenger traffic in London and other centers demoralized; freight traffic throughout the kingdom hampered.

Liverpool's steamship service at a standstill.

Sporadic rioting in various English cities and in Wales.

London's "tube" men threaten to go out.

Troops everywhere ready to quell disturbances.

Parliament remains in session because of the strike.

Scarcity of food causing prices to advance.

The railway employ 500,000 men, whose average weekly wage is less than six dollars.

The value of the railways is $6,500,000,000.

Scores of thousands of railway employees throughout the United Kingdom are on strike tonight and traffic everywhere is badly disorganized.

The leaders of the strikers declared that 220,000 men, or nearly half the total employees of the railways of England, Scotland and Wales, have answered their call to strike work. Managers of the railways say these figures are greatly exaggerated. There is no method by which verification of either assertion is possible, but it is apparent that railway service all over the country is demoralized, a limited passenger service being possible only with the greatest difficulty. Never before have the managers of a British government railway such earnest efforts toward ending off a great labor war, but tonight they have been unable to stave a movement that promises to entail inconvenience, possibly misery, to millions.

London Bullets in Belts.
London has the appearance of an armed camp, for on all sides are to be seen soldiers, rifles in hand and loaded bullets in their belts, while from the dome of St. Paul's cathedral the engineers are keeping in communication with the general staff by heliographic signals in the day time and by electric flashes at night.

The whole of today was spent by Premier Asquith, David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, and Sidney Buxton, president of the board of trade, in fruitless conferences with the leaders on both sides. Mr. Asquith is far from well and went into the country Thursday night to recuperate, but he came in today to aid in the negotiations.

An official statement issued at the home office today declared that the strike has developed all over the country and produced a widespread, though only partial, dislocation of the railway service. It adds that as far as present information goes over two-thirds of the railway men remain at their posts and that the strikers are receiving numerous applications for employment.

The statement notes the absence of serious disorders and says the military authorities have the situation thoroughly under control. It also refers to the settlement of the London dock strike and says there will be a resumption of the unloading of cargoes tomorrow. The statement concludes by announcing that Mr. Lloyd-George and Mr. Buxton still are endeavoring to arrange an amicable settlement of the railway strike.

Strikers Intractable.
According to the best information what jeopardizes the negotiations for is the obstinacy of the strike leaders and the intractability of the strikers themselves, as manifested through their provincial and local secretaries.

It is stated that Ramsay MacDonald and Arthur Henderson, labor leaders in the house of commons, and men in union circles spared no effort to induce the government's proposals, but without success. The negotiations, however, will be resumed tomorrow.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has issued a special prayer for a cessation of the strike. This prayer will be issued in the churches tomorrow and Sunday.

Broadly speaking the strike is most effective in the north of England where many towns are completely isolated, and in the south of Wales. It is partly effective east in the midlands, but has not caused trouble in the south of England. For a few

Says Taft Is Right in Opposing Recall Judges

"President Taft was right," says J. Holdom, Chicago, former judge of the Illinois appellate court, in speaking of the veto placed on the Arizona-New Mexico statehood bill a few days ago, because the constitution carried with it the right to recall the judges.
Mr. Holdom is decidedly against giving the people of any state the right to recall judges. And now that he is off the bench after 12 years of service, he feels that he is in a position to know what is best for all judges, and elective judges in particular. His retirement took place last December, following the Democratic landslide in Illinois. Judge Holdom said yesterday:

"It is the duty of the judge to interpret the law. The duty of making the laws belong to the legislators—the judge then applies them.
"Take a case for instance where an individual is being tried. The decision is right and just and in full accordance with the law, but at the same time unpopular with the public. And for this unpopular, though just, decision, the people unseat him to put in his place a man that would give a wrong interpretation of the law. Would that be right? Would it be in accordance with our ideas and principles to place a man on the bench who would give popular, though unlawful, decisions?"

"The law is the highest fabric of our Democratic principles. A judge must deal with it as it is written. The persons to be recalled, if any, are the judges that make the laws and not the judges that interpret it."
Mr. Holdom sees a great difference in Colorado Springs since the time of his first visit—10 years ago. He visited the Pikes Peak region then with the members of the American bar association. Accompanied by his wife and son, he is stopping at the Antlers hotel.

HOUSE CANNOT

enormous which for a moment had a threatening aspect. The incident was precipitated when the majority leader objected to the Alabama member's request to have a newspaper editorial printed in the congressional record.
That the administration was watching developments was evidenced in the presence on the floor of the house of Messrs. Wickersham, Hitchcock, Nagel and Stinson, of the president's cabinet. Representative Dugan, of Pennsylvania, Republican leader Mann and former Speaker Cannon, denounced the bill. The latter said the Democrats had come into power in the house by demagoguery, but that he expected to see them turned out in 1912.

Uncle Joe Still Standing, Fat.
"I believe," he continued, "that your efforts to revise the tariff have cost the people more money than would have been saved in a decade."
Speaker Clark was cheered from both sides of the house when he left the chair and took the floor to end the discussion. The climax of his address was reached when he said:

"The president has a right to veto the bill if he wants to. I am not quarreling with him. I am lamenting his lack of wisdom, as his personal friend. He has raised an issue that will rage with unabated fury until the close of the polls in November, 1912."
This was a signal for such an outburst is seldom has been known in congress. It was a genuine demonstration from his fellow Democrats. Again and again, as he continued, the Democrats applauded, cheered and shouted their desks until Democratic leader Underwood, who occupied the chair, almost despaired of maintaining order.

Presidential Aspirant Clark Speaks.
Continuing, Speaker Clark said: "Mr. Underwood and myself never advocated this tariff board. We never voted for it. I will tell you what we did advocate and what we did vote for, and that is to make that board responsible to the house of representatives in general and to the ways and means committee in particular."
"I am not going to say anything derogatory of this tariff board, but I am going to say what I think, as I always do. Any member of the ways and means committee knows more about the tariff than that entire tariff board rolled together."
The speaker challenged the statement that the wool bill had been "unconsidered," and referred to the Democratic caucus of members-elect on January 10, in which he said he had been called "my crazy scheme," but it worked like a charm. He defied former President Taft to state that his ways and means committee ever spent three months on any tariff schedule.

"The president made a speech at Winona. The only part of that speech that was any good was that part of it in which he said the wool schedule was too high and ought to be reduced."
"I was so certain that the president would sign the bill, cutting down the wool tariff, that I lost the best hat that can be made in the United States on that proposition. I took him at his word. I never did believe he would veto until the last two or three days."
No sooner had the result been announced than the assistant secretary from the White House arrived with the president's veto of the free list bill. After it had been read, Mr. Underwood moved that it be passed notwithstanding the veto. Following 20 minutes' discussion, led by Representative Payne and Mr. Underwood, the roll was called, the vote being 238 yeas and 127 nays, much less than the necessary two-thirds majority.

CATTLEMAN SUICIDES

DENVER, Aug. 18.—Alden C. McKellar, a cattleman of West Cliff, Colo., committed suicide some time today at the Brown Palace hotel. McKellar registered at the hotel Monday. That day he had deposited $2,400 in the Continental Trust company. His body was discovered late today, with a 32-caliber revolver near by. Two stamped letters, one addressed to the cashier of U. F. Tompkins bank at Westcliffe, and the other to Mrs. McKellar at Westcliffe, were found in the room and it is thought these may convey some explanation for the suicide. They were mailed to their destination.

CONFESSES UTAH TRAIN ROBBERY

DENVER, Aug. 18.—Frank A. Watson, a Denver jail prisoner, claims to be one of the men who on January 1 last held up the Southern Pacific limited at Reese, Utah, killing a porter and robbing the passengers. But police officials refuse to regard his story as a fabrication.

Watson was arrested in Denver on May 1 on a charge of safe blowing at Alliance, Neb. A few days after his confinement in the local jail, he told Chief Armstrong of the Denver police department his alleged part in the Southern Pacific robbery, giving an explanation for his voluntary admission that he wanted his wife and family to get the $10,000 reward offered for the robbers. Chief Armstrong kept the confession a secret in order that it might be investigated and it did not become public until today.

According to Watson's story, his accomplices in the Southern Pacific holdup were R. M. Roberts of Mullen, Neb., and Joseph Collins of Omaha, Neb. Collins, who had come to Omaha with the tip concerning the Southern Pacific job, knew a rancher named Sprague living just outside of Ogden from whom the trio secured three horses and who accompanied them to the railroad at Reese. They reached this station near midnight and when Watson heard the train approaching he threw the black signal, causing the train to stop.

Watson's description of the holdup which followed tallies fairly closely with the reports sent out at the time of the robbery. He says that Collins shot the negro porter at his resistance, command the porter not responding to their orders with sufficient alacrity. Watson said the three robbers separated after the holdup and did not meet again until they reached Omaha a few days later. There they arranged to dispose of the booty. Watson says, through a man named Harry Crawford at Lincoln, Neb. Watson says the trio got only about $400 out of the holdup.

Watson also asserts that he participated in the holdup of an Oregon Short Line passenger train near Ogden, June 27, 1910, and that R. M. Roberts and Ray Roberts, brothers, were his partners in that affair. Ray Roberts afterwards was killed at Alliance, Neb., by a deputy sheriff.

of the Irish railways have the men going out.
The situation in Scotland is uncertain. In Edinburgh reports are that a general strike has been declared there, but at Glasgow the men have postponed deciding whether they will answer the call Sunday.

Sporadic Rioting.
On the whole there is much less disorder than expected; only sporadic conflicts arising from intimidation of strikers by pickets, attacks on trains and signal boxes, the cutting of wires, etc.

Prices of food, as far as London is concerned, show little change and a resumption of work tomorrow by the dockers in unloading 50 ships waiting to discharge their cargoes will tend to bring the food situation here to about normal. Should the strike continue, a serious question will be the talk generally for which London is wholly dependent upon the railway service.

The strike is throwing a large amount of extra work on London's tramway service and tonight the tramway men are reported to be complaining. There have been serious fears of a strike of these employees and if it should come it would deprive Londoners of almost their last means of cheap transportation.

INFANT CHRISTENED

Chaloner Baker Infant, Jr., is the name given the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Chaloner B. Schley at the christening yesterday afternoon at their home in Broadmoor. The Rev. Dr. Gibson Bell, headmaster of St. Stephens School for Boys, officiated. Mr. Spencer Penrose was the godfather, and Harry Leonard and Bryant Turner, both of Denver, were godfathers. Many friends were present.

A WONDERFUL SIGHT

Aside from the unequalled scenic grandeur of the trip, the Cripple Creek district itself is one of the world's famous show places.

MADERO'S PARLEY STOPS REBELLION
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 18.—Francisco I. Madero has induced Emiliano Zapata to surrender his arms. This afternoon he advised President de la Barra of the result of his interview with the leader of the rebels in the state of Morelos, and the government, relying on the word of Zapata, will send an officer to Cuautla tomorrow to muster out the insurgents.
Madero arrived in Cuautla at midday.
"Yesterday the rebels styling him 'traitor,' threatened to assassinate him if seen near their camp. The

IRRIGATION TUNNEL 14,725 FEET LONG UNDER DIVIDE
DENVER, Aug. 18.—According to an agreement yesterday, James McIlwain of Cripple Creek, who established a new world's record in the boring of the Laramie-Poudre tunnel, will begin before October 15 the construction of an irrigation tunnel under the continental divide, near the head of Clear creek, to divert the waters of the Williams fork of the Grand river to the land included in the Henryryn irrigation project, northeast of Denver. The contract will be signed when the contractor returns to the city within the next few days.
The tunnel will be 14,725 feet long. At the contract price of $10 a foot, the cost will be $389,000. By reason of the fact that a smaller tunnel, 3,000 feet in length and 17 miles of ditch west of the range will be necessary before the main tunnel is utilized, the project contemplates the expenditure of more than $1,000,000. The 3,000-foot tunnel designed to avoid the construction of seven miles of ditches and flumes, and the 17 miles of ditches on the western slope, will cost approximately $500,000. The contractor will have three years in which to finish the work.

A QUESTION

Supposing you are a dressmaker or a carpenter, or perhaps a member of the greatest profession of all, a housewife. You need a piece of white silk seam binding; another tool; a bag of salt and you need it BADLY, too! Now, the question is, how are you going to get it? Shall you stop in the middle of your work, "slick up," spend 10c carfare, and waste half an hour or more of your time to go after it yourself?

THE ANSWER

The Quick Delivery is prepared to attend to these wants quickly, cheaply, and satisfactorily. Tell us just what you need. If you are not sure, we can bring two or three; then you can make your selection and pay for the one you want. This part of the activities of the Q. D. was inaugurated for your special service. By making use of it, you will save a great deal of time and trouble, and it will cost you about what you would have paid for carfare. Merely call MAIN 2000.

AMERICAN PRESS HUMORISTS TO MEET IN ABOY NEIGHBORHOOD

BOSTON, Aug. 16.—After a week of play and sightseeing about the city, the funmakers of the country will attend at the annual convention of the American Press Humorists

The usual cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood which weakens and acidifies this vital fluid; and prevents the proper amount of nourishment being afforded the muscles, nerves and tendons. The pains and aches of Rheumatism may be temporarily relieved by the use of liniments, hot applications, and other external treatments; but the disease cannot be permanently benefited by such measures and is bound to become chronic and dangerous if such things are depended upon alone. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation. When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, and every symptom of Rheumatism passes away. Book of Rheumatism and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

About Black Opals

"Black" as applied to the opal is a misnomer; the so-called "Black Opal" is in reality a stone of all colors and might well be called a stone of all nations because in different individual specimens may be found the colors of every country on earth. We have a beautiful selection of this rare stone and would be pleased to show and tell you more if you will call.

BIG KNIGHTS COLUMBUS INITIATION TOMORROW

Members from All Parts of State to Attend—Picked Team Will Play Zoo Baseball Nine.

Members of the Colorado Springs Knights of Columbus lodge are not going to entertain in a half-spirited fashion tomorrow for their friends at the Pike's Peak region, at the time of the big initiation. They will have as their guests members from Denver, Pueblo, Cripple Creek, Victor, Canon City and other points. Many are coming on special excursion trains.

The big event of the day will be the initiation of 40 candidates at the Knights of Pythias hall, 108 North Tejon street, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

And if they do not want to attend the initiation ceremonies, an announcement reads, "we will have all kinds of things at the Zoo park to keep them interested. Several picnics have been arranged."

A ball team and the St. Vincent's Orphanage Home band will accompany the train of 300 lodge members from Denver, due to arrive over the Denver & Rio Grande railroad at 10:00 o'clock in the morning. Special street cars will be waiting at the viaduct to take them to the Zoo, where the first ball game will be played with the Zoo team, beginning at 11:15 o'clock.

The Zoo and the West Colfax team have a ball game scheduled for the afternoon. A pumpkin pie feast is on the schedule for the visitors at that time.

Bright Outlook for Sugar Beet Industry

The growth of the sugar beet industry among the farmers of Colorado and Kansas is evidenced in the action by agriculturists near Sylvia, Reno county, Kan., following a report made by H. S. Thompson to the Sylvia Commercial club.

After a thorough investigation of the western Kansas, eastern Colorado and Michigan fields, Mr. Thompson reported favorably upon the advantages of the sugar beet as a staple crop and as a result the Reno county farmers have placed big orders with the United States Sugar and Land company, controlled by Colorado Springs men, for next season's output. This is the first time that the farmers of that immediate section have taken up with the idea. Officers of the company, who attended the meeting, say that almost every farmer of that section will plant from five to 10 acres in sugar beets next year.

Mr. Thompson, who made the investigation for the Sylvia Commercial club, is former state senator and one of the wealthiest farmers of central western Kansas.

How many brush in a brush pile?

EXPLOITS THIS REGION

The Burlington railroad has started an advertising campaign of the Pike's Peak region in the east, similar to the one that has been conducted in the central and southern states. The railroad plans to run special trains every week next season from eastern points, according to C. A. Brown, Cleveland, special representative of the company, and who is stopping at the Alamo hotel.

"The Burlington management feels," Mr. Brown said, "that if eastern people once get acquainted with the Pike's Peak region, as are the southerners, they will become good friends of the district and will return the following season of their own accord."

The Burlington railroad is making plans to bring 3,000 tourists to this section next year.

CLAIMS TAX TOO HIGH

A claimant that El Paso county's tax assessment against it is unjust and out of proportion, the Santa Fe railway has taken the matter up with the state board of equalization in Denver. The assessments in Pueblo and Otero counties are also being contested by the road.

It is claimed by the railroad that the tax levy in the counties named is unfair when compared with assessments against other corporations, and prejudice is charged as having much to do with the rate of taxation imposed. According to the Santa Fe, the amount of overassessment in El Paso county is about $7,000. County Treasurer F. M. McMahon's figures from the county assessor show that the amount due from the road is $26,832.82, and he has declined to accept the smaller sum of $19,832.82, which the company offers in settlement.

SEEKS BIG JUDGMENT

Isabel M. Lescage, formerly Isabel M. Hall, filed suit in the district court yesterday against James C. Connor, et al., alleging that on July 1, 1907, Connor gave her a note for $25,822.96, payable three years after date with interest. To secure payment, Connor, it is said, executed a deed of trust to his property west of Colorado City, which was duly recorded in the county clerk's office. It is claimed that no part of the principal has been paid and plaintiff takes the position that she is now the owner of the note and mortgage. She asks judgment for $25,822.96, with interest, and that the court make the usual decree for the sale of the property or a part of it by the sheriff.

TO RESIGN AS MANAGER

After five years' connection with the State Realty company, Frank H. Dunnington will resign as manager, September 1. He will act as vice president and counsel for the company for an indefinite time, but later intends to withdraw from active interest in the firm. He is not likely to announce his future business plans.

OBJECT TO BEING CALLED BELLBOYS

Bellboys May Organize, With View of Starting National Association

The bellboys of Colorado Springs are on the verge of a rebellion, figuratively speaking. In the first place they object to being called bell "boys," and want to be known as bell "boys" or bell "men."

Didn't know there was a difference? Well, there is. They chartered the Belmont cafe, 124 East Pike street, and from 12 to 1 o'clock yesterday morning 15 of them sat over a 14-course dinner, coffee, cups and cigars, and talked of "better conditions and improved situations" for bell "boys" and bell "men" in general.

The affair was a sort of a farewell party to Samuel Lichenstein and "Pat" Molloy, two of the best known bellboys of Colorado Springs. They are leaving shortly for Cheyenne, and their fellow workers at the Alamo hotel and other hostilities thought it a good chance to give them a sendoff, and at the same time lay a stepping stone for bringing about better working conditions.

The meeting was such a success that the Colorado Springs aggregation of bell answerers intends making it a monthly affair, with the view of forming a permanent organization, similar to the one maintained by the hotel clerks.

"We are not going to fudge a waton or go out on a strike for better wages," said Roy Hoffman, head bell man of the Alamo hotel, "nor are we going to foster a movement to push aside the bonds of slavery; we are treated all right by the managers."

And here is where the difference is explained between a bell "boy" and a bell "boy" or "man."

Where the Difference Lies.

"The bell 'boy,'" Hoffman says, "is a tough, on 'low-brow.' We are trying to keep this elegant out of the high-class places. They are the ones that are giving us a black eye."

"I was reading an article in 'The Gazette' a day or so ago, in which a man by the name of Shanessy tells the barbers a few things about tips. I say suit me to a dot."

"A bell 'boy' or 'man' will give the same kind of service to a patron that does not tip, as he would to the one who is throwing out tips here and there. He tries to be a gentleman at all times while the bell 'boy' thinks of nothing but how much he is going to get out of every man or woman that throws a suit case in the door. If he does not get the money, then he sneezes or lets down with the service."

The bell 'boy' or 'man' works for the hotel just as much as the head clerk. He enters the profession, like any other would engage in business affairs. He wants to stay with it and have the good feeling of every one he meets. In time to come, we all expect to find something that will pay us better. We all have ambition. Another thing—we do not want to be classed as valets or body servants. We are employees for all the guests and are here to wait on them."

The movement started in Colorado Springs for monthly meetings, it is planned, will be extended to all the large cities of the United States.

I. D. Nash, manager of the Belmont cafe, had a special surprise in the course of the dinner prepared for the diners. It was called the "bellboy's delight" and came in on the last tray, served by the five waiters. The "delight" consisted of a dish of whipped cream with lady fingers at the bottom.

"And don't forget to say," one of the bellboys insisted, "that there was 'something added.'"

A vast amount of ill health is due to impaired digestion. When the stomach fails to perform its functions properly the whole system becomes deranged. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets is all you need. They will strengthen your digestion, invigorate your liver, and regulate your bowels, entirely doing away with that miserable feeling due to faulty digestion. Try it. Many others have been permanently cured—why not you? For sale by all dealers.

FLOWER SHOW ENDS TODAY

Much Interest Displayed—Music a Feature Announcement Awards Will Be Made Tomorrow.

This is the last day of the flower show being conducted at Stratton park pavilion by the El Paso County Horticultural society. A novel feature will be the parade of the little "toys" with their dolls, at 10 o'clock a. m., the time set for the judging of the doll exhibit.

Mrs. P. O. Hanford, W. W. Arnold and O. R. Gillett have not fully recovered from the task set before them yesterday, when they tried to pick the prettiest and best developed babies out of 100 entries.

"We made the decisions all right," said Dr. Arnold, "but we have decided not to make an announcement regarding the prize-winners until Sunday. All announcements will be ready for publication in the Sunday's Gazette tomorrow, according to Dr. Arnold."

The program offered by the Horticultural society is unusually interesting, and the pavilion was crowded throughout the day with residents and tourists.

Fred Butler, basso, gave a solo last evening. Miss Edith Taylor was the accompanist. A concert was given by the Paderic ladies' orchestra, and Mrs. Jenny Coren Bunn gave a solo. A splendid musical program has been arranged for this afternoon and evening. The Paderic orchestra will play all afternoon, and Victor Polant will give several violin solos.

"Were all modelines as meritorious as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the world would be much better off and the percentage of suffering greatly decreased," writes Lindsay Scott, of Temple, Ind. For sale by all dealers.

GOOD NEWS

Many Colorado Springs Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Colorado Springs are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back has had no more thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with the Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Mrs. J. W. Donaldson, 112 S. Sixth street, Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "I was subject to attacks of backache for several years and the kidney troubles were about Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured a supply and after taking the contents of two boxes, I was completely cured. That happened over several years ago, and since then I have never had a recurrence of backache. I always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone I hear complaining of kidney disorders."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlwain Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

What the Press Agents Say

LICENSE FOR "THE DEVIL"

"The Devil" will be given for the last time at the Opera house by the Lorch Stock company this afternoon and night. The present performance of "The Devil" ranks with any ever given in this city of this splendid drama. Mr. Lorch is seen at his best in the title role and Miss Marie Ayer as Olga, the wife, does some commendable work. Cecil Fay has a part suited to her charming personality.

When George L. Graves, who is stage manager of the Lorch company, was plotting the road production of "The Devil" through the northwest, it was necessary, in order to make a long jump between two of the large cities in that section of the country, either to lose a night, or to play a small one-night stand. The management decided to play the town, rather than lose the night. Evidently this harriet had not had a "show" for many a moon and great interest was stirred up over the coming of "The Devil."

Arriving in the village, Mr. Graves was met by the town constable who informed him that to present his play in that city he would have to have a license. They proceeded to the town hall and obtained the license which read as follows: "This license is granted: The Devil to carry on the business or occupation of theater for one night only, November 6, 1911, at the Village of Shelley, County of Bingham, evening."

State of Idaho, having paid the village clerk the sum of one dollar, therefore signed.

Mr. Graves says he is still curious to know if the village clerk really realized what was going on in the broader sense of its meaning. Furthermore, Mr. Graves suggests that a dollar is a rather cheap price to allow the Devil to carry on business anywhere or under any circumstances.

"On Parade," a military drama, by Louis Evan Shipman, and "The Sign of the Cross," a Sherlock Holmes play by Conan Doyle, will be given at the Opera house next week.

GET HAPPY—AT THE MAJESTIC TODAY

There may have been better comedy bills at the Majestic than that which opens a week's engagement this afternoon, but a glance over the list of laugh producing features, headed by the famous Lew Hawkins, makes it hard to believe that such is the case. In any event, nobody could wish to see a more entertaining bill than this—it is one of the greatest offerings of the summer.

Everything, whether it be serious or otherwise, looks like fun to Lew Hawkins, dean of the minstrel men, and he is on his way this time with a new line of laughter. Hawkins is one of vaudeville's perennials and like the gentle "daffydil" he is always welcome. As a maker of blackface fun he has few equals and certainly it would be difficult to find his superior. Hawkins is possessed of a raptorial philosophy that is both amusing and encouraging and it looks at current events from a slant that none else gets, so in a way, he is a good bit of a missionary, a missionary whose whose incursions into the jungle usually leave the "heathen" laughing.

Another great mark provoker is the act of Bernard's Markings, the funniest and most hilarious fun-makers the theatrical world has ever known. They will be seen in a countless festival that is a riot of comic oddities.

Still another fine comedy card is Paul Case's jolly sketch, "Fresh From College," in which he will be seen with a capable company. A Yale man who has become a puglist and poses as a minister before an unsophisticated girl admirer is the crux of the sketch. Delightful particularly as a musical treat is the vocal and piano specialty of Pearl Young, the celebrated soprano formerly with Sousa's band.

The great Rex drama, "The White Red Man," pronounced by critics one of the greatest motion picture plays yet produced will be the offering of the Majestic and Director Hockenberger has arranged an especially attractive concert orchestra program.

This feast of good things—an hour and a half of the highest class of refined entertainment—for only 10, 20 and 30 cents. Performances at 2:30, 7:30 and 9:10.

EAGLES STOP OVER
The Denver & Rio Grande railroad brought a special train bearing 140 members of the Cleveland Erie, Frattner Order of Eagles, into the city yesterday. They spent the day visiting the mountains and parks. They are on their way to the national convention at San Francisco, leaving last evening.

OUR SPLENDID PARKS

IT IS a familiar maxim that we must go away from home to learn about our own affairs. Of course this is not strictly true, but it is a fact nevertheless that the competent opinion of an outsider on a local matter is likely to carry greater weight than that of any of our own people.

A few days ago the Mayor of Indianapolis visited Colorado Springs. He happens to be an enthusiast on the subject of parks, and it happens also that our Park Commission is made up of men who are in love with this subject. The Commissioners showed Mayor Shanks the entire Colorado Springs park system, and his delight was unbounded. "I have visited nearly every city of importance in America," he said, "and I have never yet laid eyes on anything that could be favorably compared with your parks when it comes to natural beauty. Colorado Springs parks eclipse anything I have seen in Denver or elsewhere."

This is the plain, unvarnished truth. There are a lot of people here who do not know it, and do not appreciate it, simply because they have never taken the trouble to find out. There are a dozen cities in the land, perhaps more any one of which would gladly spend millions of dollars for such a park system as is possessed by Colorado Springs.

This is not a guess; it is the actual expression of visitors from those cities men who know what they are talking about, and whose opinion deserves consideration. Suppose, for instance, that New York, or Chicago, or St. Louis could, by spending two or three million dollars, transplant the Garden of the Gods to its immediate environs. Not one of them would hesitate a moment to make the expenditure, but unfortunately for them they could not do it with two millions or two hundred millions.

There is only one Garden of the Gods in the world, and we have it. Thank heaven for that! It lies at our door, and little by little we can develop and improve it, and make it more and more a playground of the people. It cannot be initiated or reproduced anywhere else on earth. It is absolutely unique. Whoever possesses enough imagination to see what this region will be twenty-five years hence can dimly grasp its value to the people as a part of our park system.

AN ASSET FOR THE FUTURE

North Cheyenne Canon and the High Drive possess unusual value for the same reason. They cannot be duplicated elsewhere. To see and enjoy them people must come here. Add to these such beautiful breathing spots as Rainer Park, Monument Valley Park, Dorchester Park and the squares in the heart of the city which also form a part of the park system, and it is not surprising that a man like Mayor Shanks, who knows his subject thoroughly, grows enthusiastic in viewing them. It is only the people who, never having seen the parks or other cities are unable to make comparisons, that can view our own parks without a glow of pride.

It is not so much the present beauty of our parks as their future possibilities that arouses enthusiasm. Everybody remembers the unsightly creek bottom which a few years ago covered the site of the present Monument Valley Park. It was the money and the public spirit and wise foresight of General Palmer that transformed that eyesore into one of the most beautiful spots in the West. Yet beautiful as it is, Monument Valley Park is still uncompleted. There are opportunities to make it even more beautiful, even more attractive to our citizens and visitors.

We are quite aware that it is no easy matter for the men who are charged with the responsibility of governing this city to find the money required for needed expenses. The same condition prevails in all thriving cities where growth is rapid and improvements must be made more frequently than in older cities which are scarcely increasing in population. But we are so strongly impressed with the importance of the Colorado Springs park system as an actual asset, as a means of future growth and development, that we believe the Mayor would be justified in adopting any legitimate means of increasing the funds allotted to the Park Commission.

Every dollar spent in improving the scenic roads under the jurisdiction of the Park Commission, in beautifying our public playgrounds and making them more attractive to our visitors, is a wise investment, for it tends to increase the pleasure of our visitors and thus promote the popularity of Colorado Springs as a tourist resort. It would be well if more of us would appreciate the importance of the park system as a means of building up a bigger and greater Colorado Springs.

FEDERATION FOOLISHNESS

ANOTHER evidence of what happens when large bodies of workmen permit themselves to be led by professional agitators.

W. R. Hearst owns newspapers in New York, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles, and one of the important monthly magazines. For many years he was a loyal friend of the unions, fighting their battles by every means in his power. But it appears that he has fallen from grace, at least in the eyes of the Colorado State Federation of Labor. A strike has occurred in a gold mine in the Black Hills in which he is a large stockholder. On this evidence the Colorado State Federation, assembled in convention in this city, last Thursday decided that Mr. Hearst is "unfair." It accordingly passed a resolution to this effect, which means that the Hearst publications are to be boycotted insofar as the worthies who ran that convention are able to make a boycott stick.

Of course this episode will not worry Hearst in the slightest degree. He probably will not know that he is being boycotted unless somebody takes the trouble to tell him. But the incident is of interest as another evidence of the lack of reason which dominates the affairs of the State Federation of Labor. True, as The Herald-Telegraph remarked yesterday, "it is well understood that the State Federation of Labor does not represent, and never has represented, the intelligent, progressive and sincere union sentiment." But it is a pity that this sentiment should be misrepresented to the public through the ability of a group of hot-headed demagogues to get together in a convention entirely subservient to them and pass resolutions, one self after another, which tend to create a public impression that the entire body of union men in Colorado are "rednecks" of a most undesirable type.

It is safe to predict that unless this course is materially altered the time is not far distant when the great mass of clear-thinking, conservative union men will break away from the Federation and leave the radical leaders to fly the red flag alone.

As Our Neighbors See It

THE FEDERATION'S MISTAKES.

From the Colorado Springs Herald-Telegraph.
In a government such as ours, where all political powers are lodged in the people, the independent press is scarcely less important than a fearless and independent judiciary, and when any body of men, representing either capital or labor, go out of their way to denounce an honest expression of opinion by any reputable newspaper, they only do themselves harm. There is much in the resolutions adopted by the State Federation of Labor at its recent meeting in this city, which will meet with the hearty condemnation of thinking men. Their demand for the judicial recall is, we believe, subversive of the fundamental principles of our government and would prove a distinct menace to representative institutions. Their resolution demanding a constitutional amendment under which the state "can go into, enter, control and run any line of industry within the state" if carried to its logical result, is socialism pure and simple.

But these are questions upon which each individual has a right to his opinion. When, however, the federation goes out of its way and denounces an honest expression of opinion by a well-known newspaper, it only does itself harm. The Colorado Herald-Telegraph yesterday morning, with reference to its resolution denouncing the Boy Scouts, it shows a spirit of intolerance which can only do harm to the cause of organized labor. Any principle which cannot stand the test of publicity and intelligent discussion may well be viewed with suspicion.

Taken as a whole, the resolutions adopted by the federation sound rather like the demagogic utterances of a sincere laboring man, anxious for the improvement of the conditions of his class. It is to be regretted that the cause of labor so often falls into the hands of the professional agitator and the inciters of class hatred; but, fortunately, it is well understood that the State Federation of Labor does not and has never represented the intelligent, progressive and sincere union sentiment.

THE SENSITIVENESS OF LABOR.

From the Denver Times.
"Charles Shaw" is not it, it is, slobbers one of G. Bernard Shaw's inimitable characters in "Captain Brassbound's Conversion." The same words can be applied to some of the actions of the State Federation of Labor, in convention at Colorado Springs. Organized labor at times seems to go out of its way to hunt up a fight on "class feeling."
Why, for example, should organized labor attack so wholly harmless a movement as the Boy Scouts on the ground that it is a subtle weapon of capital? The Boy Scouts is an organization for boys of all classes, in fact, it teaches the obliteration of snobishness. It stands for loyalty, good fellowship and a wholesome outdoor life. The military form of organization was adopted simply because it was the most convenient. The ultimate purpose is not militarism, but the substitution of helpful impulses for those which lead to the streets, the pool halls and the cheap amusement places.
The cause of organized labor is one which makes a deep appeal for enlightened sympathy, but labor ought not to create class feeling where none exists. The truth of it is, labor is too sensitive at times. It can seem trouble coming from afar off and offend itself to meet it. This is hardly a broad, democratic, American attitude.

FROM OTHER PENS

WHEN IS A DAY A DAY?

From the Chicago Record-Herald.
The subtleties of the law are well brought into play over the question "What is a day?" that has arisen in the enforcement of the 10-hour law for women's labor. Most of us believe we know what a day is; the civil day is defined in text books as beginning and ending at midnight; the astronomical day as beginning and ending at noon. Apparently, every employer of women has an astrophysicist, or, for they have a purpose, factory inspectors have by insisting that a day may begin at noon they have a right to require from women who have worked only in the afternoon of Friday service from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Saturday each week.

WHERE FOSS MIGHT DO SOMETHING

From the Springfield Union.
The greatest injustice of our prison system, it seems to us, is not in sentencing men to prison, but in sending them out into the world when they have completed their terms without money, without anything to fall back upon except their own resources. Society is naturally distrustful of the man with a criminal record, and for such a man employment is hard to find. The state in many instances sells the labor of its convicts. If a part of what a convict earns were placed to his credit he would not leave jail without funds to enable him to get a fresh start in this direction, rather than in the free exercise of the pardoning power, lies the best opportunity for Governor Ross to work a reform.

FROM BULL RUN TO ARBITRATION.

From Harper's Weekly.
Some of the papers gave more space to the amusing incidents of the president's journey to Montana last month than to the speech he made there, or to the occasion itself. Perhaps it was a correct estimate of the public's preferences in the way of news, but we doubt it. For what the president said was interesting, and the audience he addressed, taken with the place and the date, was more interesting still. Once again the president turned from honoring soldiers and from memories of war to the praise and advocacy of peace; and this time he gave point to his contention by announcing confidently that within a very short time the new arbitration treaties with England and France will be signed, and that there is every prospect of our soon concluding similar agreements with three other of the world's great nations.

Sunflower Philosophy

There is no use in cussing when things are going wrong, for saying things and fussing won't bring good luck along. If fortune treats you meanly you'll find that it will pay to go around serenely, and smile the good old way. There is no use in USELESS fussing if you have not an ax to grind. There is no use in whining as though your heart would break. It's best to sit and suffer your little pain and grin; your luck might be much better than it has ever been. Sometimes the gods correct you, and if you give no screech, your neighbors will respect you, and say that you're a peach. There is no use in ranting; the quiet man is best; that mouth is most enchanting which often takes a rest. Just do some silent thinking while jogging on your way; so many tongues are clinking and clanking all the day!

THE DAILY CHIT CHAT

BY RUTH CAMERON

There is a little girl in our street who rejoices in the possession of a dinky little pony and pony cart. By reason of this good fortune she is, of course, the envy and admiration of almost every child in town. There is scarcely a child in the neighborhood who is not passionately anxious to be Dot's friend.

Except—and hereby hangs the tale—except Donald. Donald is a sturdy youngster, a little older than Dot, of the pony cart. He moved here a few months after she did and had hardly been domiciled a day before Dot saw him and experienced love at first sight.

Intoxicated by the position of distinction and power which the pony cart has long given her, Dot immediately set out with serene severity to annex Donald.

Both figuratively and, with the aid of her pony cart, literally, she went after him. She came up to his home in the morning and offered to drive him to school.

She took his sister driving. If he went to the other end of the town after school to play with other boys she drove after him and humiliated him in the presence of his comrades by urging him to get in and drive.

Crowning concession of all for her, she even offered to let him ride on the pony's back.

All this had its inevitable result—Donald being a genuine boy—that his initial liking of her soon changed into disgust and dislike.

Had Dot of the pony cart approached Donald in any other way, I think she might have won out, for she is not an unattractive little girl. But she failed, so utterly because she tried to drive her pony cart over an obstacle that not even her plucky little beast could surmount—and that was the intrinsic nature of boy and man.

Thus are girls and women everywhere trying to do the same thing, with wealth, or popularity, or beauty or some other kind of a pony cart. And if the man is a real man they almost inevitably meet with failure.

Man wants to pursue. He does not want to be pursued. Whether you like it or not you might as well make up your mind that that is a part of the "cave man" nature that is still left in any man worth the name.

They also serve who only stand and wait, was surely said for women in love or better still, for all women at all times.

I do believe that a woman who wants a man to fall in love with her may go after him; but only in the carefully concealed way in which a hunter stalks a deer, keeping always to leeward. She may manage to be at places where she will be likely to meet him. She may make herself as attractive as possible to him. She may study his tastes. But she must never let him suspect she is stalking him any more than the hunter lets the deer.

And then, when I'm glad for her. For, just think, she's learned now, when it must cost her so very much less, a lesson that many women pay for with broken hearts.

After all, I guess she is very, very lucky.

The Short Ballot A Progressive Ideal

A Series of Talks on the New Direction of Political Reform Which Now Propose to Simplify and Popularize Politics.

By RICHARD S. CHILDS

IV—How the Present Elective Officers Are Concealed From Public Oversight.

In the last talk I pointed out that elected officials are not likely to be sensitive to the public unless they are so conspicuous that the failure to yield to public demands is noted by their constituents. No obscure official has much reason to fear public wrath, but some unusually picturesque crime will attract the spotlight in this direction. The obscure official can do what he pleases and come back to the people serenely, demanding reelection with impunity.

One of the nicest ways of making an official, inconspicuous and concealing him from public oversight is to have so many other elective officers in the same community that the people cannot possibly keep track of them all. New York city, for example, elects over 500 men to office in the course of a cycle of four years. Chicago elects a still larger number, and Philadelphia goes further still. The voter in Chicago finds himself confronted with the necessity of making 48 choices on election day. The voter in a typical Ohio community must choose 45. In California about 50. Now, when you ask any ordinary citizen to select 50 men out of several hundred it is safe to say that he is not going to remember 50 names, but will accept a ready-made list prepared for him by somebody else. Whether that "somebody else" be a party caucus or a civic organization or a newspaper does not matter for the significant fact is that the voter practically lets somebody else guide his pencil for him when he marks his ballot. The voter will exercise his own choice as regards the conspicuous officials, the governors and mayors, for example, but the long list of petty officers he will let go by default and allow the politicians to have their own way. Ask the California voter whom he voted for and he will not be able even to name one-tenth of the men for whom he has just balloted.

Is it reasonable to believe that these obscure candidates safely lost in these long lists are going to worry about the desires of the voter? They get elected in the confusion practically without the voter's knowledge. The minor office seeker knows very well that he does not owe his election to the people under these circumstances and does not have to please them. If he is nominated on a certain ticket he will get elected, whether he deserves it or not.

The people are constantly voting for candidates whom they would not think of supporting if they knew about them. The reason they do not know is because in such a long list of elective officials the individual official is safely "lost" in the shuffle. They men cannot possibly all be conspicuous in one community at the same time. The long ballot keeps the public mind so distracted that the individual official never gets a fair hearing on his merits before the people and must go by his election or reelection with hat in hand to those political specialists who make up the ticket.

Every office added to the elective list beyond a certain convenient number is not giving the people power, but is putting power out of their reach. In Illinois, for example, which already has a ballot that is much too long for practical purposes, it was recently proposed to make three civil service commissioners' elective by popular vote instead of appointive by the governor. Lengthening the ballot in this way from 48 to 51 offices was supposed to be "giving the people power." Every politician in the state knew better. It was giving power to the politicians, not to the people, or, if you please, it was giving the people power in unusable form, just as you might invite a man to defend himself with a sword ten feet long and too heavy to lift and then, when he found himself defenseless, offer to make the sword longer still. Would that be giving him power?

The long ballot operates to conceal public officials from public scrutiny. The number of elective offices should be reduced sufficiently so that the ballot would be short enough to prevent the mere number of offices from confusing and bewildering the voters and concealing the individual candidates.

WILLING TO COMPROMISE

At yesterday's meeting of the city council, Commissioner Lawton was authorized to offer property owners on Pike's Peak avenue, at the Santa Fe undercrossing, $2,500 in settlement of their claims for damages. E. R. Stort and others estimate that they have been damaged collectively about $22,500 on account of the undercrossing. Property owners interested have not decided what steps to take with regard to the proposed compromise.

The Columbia Drug company, successor of the Crapper Drug company, was granted a liquor license formerly held in the name of the latter. M. L. Crapper protested that the license was still his property, but City Attorney McKesson advised the council that interest in the liquor license had been assigned with the other assets of the firm.

Joseph C. Critz applied for a liquor license for the South End pharmacy, having recently purchased D. E. Wood's interest in the business. The store is already licensed, and the application of Critz is merely to have the liquor-selling permit made out in his name, although the council will consider the application as though it were for a new license.

Council voted to accept a plat of the Union street addition, which was presented and ordered placed on file with the records.

YOU FOLLOW US—WE'LL MAKE MONEY FOR YOU

Is That Satisfactory?

We have made MONEY for OTHERS. We will make MONEY for YOU if YOU will but take our advice.

We advise you to get up early SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 19TH, go out to THE PROSPECT LAKE ADDITION, select any lot that appeals to you (and there's one there which will appeal to you); tell the agent just what terms you want and then leave it to us.

We are going to have the greatest crowd that ever attended a lot opening; we are going to have many people from TEXAS, many from OKLAHOMA, many from KANSAS, many from MISSOURI, and many from OTHER STATES, on the PROSPECT LAKE ADDITION on SATURDAY, AUGUST 19TH; some of them have already been out and looked over the ADDITION, wanted to buy, but we could not sell before SATURDAY, AUGUST 19TH, those same ones will be there early because they never before saw an addition which appealed to them as does PROSPECT LAKE ADDITION, and they simply marveled at the prices.

Think of it! Lots in an ADDITION located in PROSPECT LAKE ADDITION, with all conveniences, such as graded streets, sewers, water, schools, churches, and above all, with beautiful prospect lake and park for your play-grounds, and such lots at $175 and up.

Did you ever hear of such a thing?

We say no; we say you will never again have such an opportunity whether or not you buy for home or an investment; if for a home your happiness will be complete and your investment a real one.

Even though you have not planned to buy a lot, take an hour off and go out to beautiful prospect lake on THE FREE CAR, which leaves from in front of our office every few minutes all day SATURDAY, AUGUST 19TH. You will wonder how such a beautiful spot remained vacant for so many years.

When you buy a lot in our PROSPECT LAKE ADDITION you are betting that COLORADO SPRINGS has a future and you win, for where on earth do you find a place with more advantages than The Home City?

No matter how satisfied you are with your home you will envy those who were wise enough to buy a lot in our PROSPECT LAKE ADDITION.

"A word to the wise is sufficient." BE WISE and join the throng and you will be looked on as wise by those who fail to go.

We have endeavored to place this proposition before you without any exaggeration. We have tried in various ways to call your attention to it, but you must go to see. We cannot see it for you. All we can do is to endeavor to paint a true picture and then leave it to you, but we are sure if you will but take the time you will say as we have many times said, "It is truly a Wonderful proposition."

There's a lot in PROSPECT LAKE ADDITION which will please you in every way. The price of it is ridiculously low. You can buy it and pay just a little down and a little at a time, or just what you can spare. Now you won't miss that, will you? We are not going to charge you any INTEREST or any TAXES and there'll be NO EXTRAS. Have you any excuse now for not being your own landlord?

Opportunity waits for no man. If you don't grasp OPPORTUNITY as it goes by you are the loser. Opportunity is going by you August 19th if you don't grasp.

Young man, young woman, you who have decided ere this, do your friends a favor. Take them with you to PROSPECT LAKE ADDITION on SATURDAY. We know they will appreciate it.

The time is at hand, the day of the big sale is here, the people are going. Are you among them or is it another lost opportunity?

REMEMBER!

LOTS, LOTS, LOTS, 183 LOTS go on sale SATURDAY morning, AUGUST 19TH at 9 A. M. in PROSPECT LAKE ADDITION to COLORADO SPRINGS. A little down, a little at a time, no interest, no taxes, no extras. A lot for each of the 183 people with the desire.

It's now or never.

They're going, going, gone, and it's never again.

Take the car carrying the big signs, IT'S THE FREE CAR.

GOOD ADVERTISING.—S. N. Nye is telling his friends in more than a dozen states of the wonders of Colorado Springs and about the recent carnival in this city. He mailed yesterday 100 copies of local and Denver papers, illustrating special carnival features.

WILDFLOWER EXCURSION.—The wildflower excursion Thursday was the largest in years, according to N. L. Drew, general agent for the Colorado Midland railroad. The company sold 540 tickets. Specimens from the floweriest fields were gathered by Missouri tourists, to be presented to the Missouri Historical society.

CRYSTAL PARK CO. WINS

The Crystal Park company won its suit against Vestia R. Morton in the district court yesterday. Judge Shearer signing an order authorizing the company to obtain possession of a small strip of land by condemnation. The court ruled that it is necessary for the company to acquire the premises to establish and maintain a roadway and that $100 is a sufficient sum to compensate the defendant. Action was brought by the Crystal Park company to secure a right-of-way across a corner of land owned by the defendant. Mr. Morton is a resident of Boston.

SNAKE DANCE THIS WEEK

The Moki snake dance will be given by the Pueblo Indians of Tusayan, Ariz., about August 25. The exact date will be announced in a day or two by the chief snake priest. About the same time the snake dance also will be given at Shipauloy and Shungopari, a few miles east of Oraibi. This is one of the most novel dances given by the American aborigines. The Santa Fe railroad is planning to take a large number of excursionists from Colorado Springs and other points along the line to witness the affair. The company advises that persons should be on the reservation by about August 21 or 22.

Japan Unable to Enter War, Says Dr. A. B. Hart

Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart, who will teach history at Colorado college this fall as Harvard's exchange professor, has written an extended article for the August 18 issue of the Saturday Evening Post. The article, which takes up more than two and one-half pages, is entitled, "Does Japan Want Peace or Holston?" Dr. Hart goes at great length into the relations between the United States and Japan, as well as those between Japan and other countries. He says: "Japan has neither the population, wealth nor credit to enter into a great naval war which would destroy her commerce, weaken her place in Asia and create hostile enemies."

In conclusion he asks, "Then what is the use of this daily paper war by the United States against Japan?" Dr. E. C. Ellis will be the Colorado college exchange professor at Harvard for the first semester.
